

PAGES _____

DATE _____

Box _____

Folder # _____

Fon # _____

BEST COPY

AVAILABLE

Woman Sure Brother Lost In Cuba Was CIA Agent

BIRMINGHAM, MAAS (UPI)—A dead-end housewife said Wednesday she was convinced her brother was working for the Central Intelligence Agency when he was shot down during the abortive Cuban invasion.

Mrs. Anthony F. Ingemi said, "I just put a lot of little things together and I'm sure that's who he was working for."

She identified her brother as Francis Baker, a former pilot who last flew as the Castro force's "a" plane, shot down April 19, 1961, near the Cuban coast. She said she had seen a newspaper clipping about the crash and that she had seen a picture of the plane.

PAID $100,000

Mrs. Ingemi said she was informed by her brother's friend that he had been shot down. She said she had seen a picture of the plane and that she had seen a picture of the plane.

"He just stayed five minutes. He said the plane crashed. He didn't say if it was shot down or what. And he said the plane was carrying an undischarged cargo," Mrs. Ingemi said.

She said her brother was home in August, having recently been discharged from the Air Force in which he was a flight engineer in the Strategic Air Command.

"He said he had this flying job for good pay but he was very quiet about it. The man who hired him was Attorney Alex Carlson of Miami, Fla., and the company was the Central Intelligence Agency. That was his job for the CIA," the sister said.

"Of course that's not the only information I don't have any information or I wouldn't be talking," she added.

SENT CLIPPING

She said her sister-in-law in Birmingham, Ala., Mrs. Baker, widow of the dead pilot, sent her a clipping of the May 5 edition of the Birmingham Post Herald showing the names of Baker and the others as victims of an April 19 crash. The story did not say the plane was shot down or that it was hired by the CIA.

She said the paper identified the three others as Riley W. Shamburter, pilot; Willard Ray, navigator, and Wayne H. Gray, radio operator.

CPYRIGHT